

Figure3.9. Aerial view of Guerrero Negro evaporation ponds. The bottoms of the ponds are covered extensively with cyanobacterial mats at a depth of approximately 50cm of water. The entire system extends over an area of more than 100km². Courtesy of David DesMarais.