

Figure 3.10. Aerial view of Solar Lake. The near-shore cyanobacterial mats grow in shallow water (maximum depth, 1m) and appear green-brown. The central portion of the lake is 4–5m deep and appears dark blue. The gravel bar on the right separates Solar Lake from the Red Sea. Courtesy of Yehuda Cohen.